Orange County • Oakhurst • Bass Lake • Glacier Point • Yosemite Valley • Fresno — 4-Day / 3-Night Trip

NOV 6 - 9 OR NOV 20 - 23, 2026 • EASY-MODERATE HIKES • OPTIONAL STRENUOUS HIKES

Trip Overview

A 4-day, 3-night fall foliage road trip from Orange County to Yosemite National Park: sunset at Bass Lake, Glacier Point and Tunnel View, a day of Yosemite Valley hikes, and a scenic drive home through Fresno. Two departure choices are offered; both are within 3 months, so they are priced as last-minute bookings (75% / 25% payment).

Which Dates? Fall Foliage in Early vs. Late November

	EARLY: Nov 6 - 9	LATE: Nov 20 - 23
Fall color	Best chance of color: black oak, bigleaf maple, and dogwood on the valley floor, usually at or just past peak	Late season; many trees may be bare, with some golden color lingering in sheltered spots
Weather	Cool days (about 55-65°F), cold nights	Colder days (about 45-55°F), freezing nights, higher chance of rain or snow
Roads	Glacier Point Road may still be open (it closes with the first big snow); Tioga Road is closed	Glacier Point Road is likely closed to cars; chain controls are more likely; Tioga Road closed
Crowds	Light	Light, with Thanksgiving-week traffic building

Color timing varies by year and weather; we will share a foliage and road update before departure. Waterfalls (Yosemite, Bridalveil) run low in autumn and can be dry until the first storms. Sunset is around 4:45-5 PM. Half Dome (cables down) and Clouds Rest / Tuolumne Meadows (Tioga Road closed) are not available on these dates.
